CHILD'S LEAP FROM BRIDGE IS FRUSTRATED

Operator Seizes
Unhappy Small Boy
At Critical Moment

John Kirkendale, Johnson Street Bridge operator, played the role of rescuer when a 12-year-old boy tried to jump off the bridge Sunday night at 9.

Kirkendale, who lives at 1160 Bewley told city police that he saw a 12-year-old boy on the outside rail of the bridge about to jump into the waters below.

"I ran over and managed to grab hold of him before he did what he intended to do. I took him into the bridge shack and spoke to him," said Kirkendale.

The boy said that he was in a foster home that his mother would have nothing to do with him and that he was very unhappy, the bridge operator told police.

Kirkendale told officers that the boy seemed to brighten up "after he'd gotten things off his chest—and I finally put him on a bus to take him home."

The rescuer was able to give police the boy's name.

Iranians Hail $24,000,000 American Loan

TEHRAN, Jan. 21 (AP)—More than 20,000 Nationalist followers of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh rallied today to hail the closing of Britain's nine consulates in Iran.

Jammed into Tehran's main square, demonstrators roared "death to the British" and cheered wildly as political speakers cited the closing as a patriotic victory.

Moslem leader Ayatollah Kashani, Mossadegh's most powerful backer, declared tomorrow a national holiday and urged Moslems faithful to express their appreciation by voting rather than demonstrating.

More than 100,000 Tehran residents are expected to vote Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Iran's slow-motion national election. Balloting has been going on since Jan. 5 and will continue several more weeks. Six Mossadegh backers have been elected thus far, to none for his opponents. There are 136 seats to be filled.

DOUBLE VICTORY

Mossadegh's campagners are trumpeing the fact that the aged premier has won a double victory from the west—closure of the consulates and $24,000,000 in American aid with virtually no string attached.

The aged Nationalist premier also was threatened with death by the fanatic Moslem sect, Fedayian Islam, unless he releases the sect's imprisoned leader.

Mossadegh announced Sunday that his cabinet had approved a working agreement giving Iran the $24,000,000 in aid for technical assistance and development.

Quits City Post

City Comptroller Henry Watson has resigned his post with the city to become comptroller for Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd. and its subsidiaries it was learned today. (See story page 11).

Y.T. Mercury Skids To -78

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 21 (AP)—The temperatures skidded to 60 degrees below zero Sunday and Fairbanks' 20,000 residents, their regular air communication virtually cut off by the bitter cold shivered in a frosty world of their own.

The cold spell, the second in 10 days, held most of the far north in its grip.

It was 78 below zero at Snag on the Alaska-Canada border and many interior Alaska points reported readings of 70 below or colder.

CEMETERY IS SCENE OF NEW FIGHTING

Four Egyptians Killed In Latest Outbreak Against British; Death Of U.S. Nun Probed

ISMAILIA, Jan. 21 (CP)—A cemetery near this Suez Canal zone town was the scene of a renewed outbreak of fighting today between British troops and Egyptian guerrillas.

British authorities reported four Egyptians killed and one British officer seriously wounded in the fighting. They said 2,000 rounds of ammunition were found hidden in a cemetery tomb.

The violence outside Ismailia followed completion of a British clean-up of the Arab quarters of this blood-stained town in the wake of the slaying of a New York-born nun.

A private requiem mass was held for Sister Anthony, 52, who was killed by a bullet in the heart as she stepped from her Roman Catholic convent door Saturday to greet a British tank detachment.

GUARD OF HONOR

As the nun's body was taken to the packed Roman Catholic church, 30 Egyptian police formed a guard of honor.

The body was borne in an ambulance of the Suez Canal Company. The Mother Superior and seven other nuns walked beside it.

Ibrahim Farag Pasha, Egypt's acting foreign minister, promised the American embassy in Cairo an immediate investigation into the death of the sister.

A British army announcement Sunday night said "It has been established" the nun was killed by one of a group of Egyptian "thugs" who invaded the convent garden to throw bombs at the British.

Egyptian authorities and Cairo newspapers claimed that a British bullet killed her. The papers accused British officials of attempting to rouse Americans against Egypt by giving a false account of the shooting.

Meanwhile, in Alexandria, police battled with large crowds demonstrating in the streets against British occupation of the Suez Canal. Police fired into the air and threw tear gas bombs into demonstrators who fought back with rocks. No serious casualties were reported.

The Elections Act was amended at the last session of the Legislature to provide for the single transferable vote but the new section has not yet been proclaimed.

In Cairo Egyptian newspapers claimed today King Ibn Saud of Arabia has worked out a true settlement for Britain and Egypt following "secret correspondence" with President Truman and has submitted it to Egypt.

Week-End Air Crashes Kill 42, Injure 61

By UNITED PRESS

At least 42 persons died and 61 were injured in three week-end military airplane crashes into a mountainside, a prisoner's barracks and the moonlight North Pacific.

Three others were feared dead but 12 survived the West Coast tragedies near Port Angeles, Wash., at Sacramento, Calif., and in Heceta Strait near the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Seven survivors told grim stories of the crash of a Korean airlift D-4 which smashed into Heceta Strait at it attempted an emergency landing at Sandspit Field on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

FROZE OR DROWNED

The seven described how 36 others, including two civilian pilots and a stewardess, froze or drowned in 27-degree waters before help arrived.

These other men were feared dead in the crash of a B-17 rescue plane which plunged into Tyler Peak near Port Angeles while returning from the scene of the DC-4 crash.

In Sacramento, a B-25 light bomber "flopped down" on a prison barracks, killing six persons and injuring 61 others. The crash occurred minutes after the 39 prisoners had returned to the barracks from their noon meal.

The survivors of the sea crash were taken to McChord air force base, Wash., where they gassed out their story of "death by slow motion" in the icy North Pacific. They were rescued by an outboard motor boat manned by volunteers who had heard their cries for help. (See page 3.)

Uneasy Congress Asked For Unprecedented Sum

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Truman today sent Congress an $85,444,000,000 budget for 1952-53, an unprecedented figure for the United States except in all-out war.

He said it was "a heavy burden . . . the price of peace." It would amount to $350 for every man, woman and child in the U.S.

Over-all, national security programs would take 76 cents out of every dollar, the President said. Non-defense spending would be slashed $1,000,000,000 under the current fiscal year ending June 30.

To Congressmen talking loudly of economy in this presidential year, Truman outlined an $11,000,000,000 expansion in armed forces spending to bring the total to more than $51,200,000, including a start on building the air force from 90 wings to 143.

(A wing consists ordinarily of one group of planes and their crews, plus necessary supporting elements for maintenance and supply. The number of planes in the group vary from 30 for heavy bombers to 75 for jet fighters.)

MORE FOR ATOMS

And he gave notice, in a budget preview for reporters, that a new $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 five-year expansion program for atomic-energy facilities will go to Congress soon. This isn't included in his budget, Truman said, because it would be spent later—in connection with some fantastic weapons.

Truman said his foreign-aid program, under heavy criticism, is "vital and indispensable . . . in the total fight for security and peace." He called for expanding total foreign aid from $6,868,000,000 this year to $10,844,000,000 next fiscal year with military aid alone jumping from $4,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000.

His budget, he said, "is carefully planned to carry us a long way forward on the road to security." He warned there is grim evidence "the Kremlin would not hesitate to resort to war in order to gain its ends."

Truman said without new taxes, his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would plunge the government $14,446,000,000 further in the red. This would compare with a $3,510,000 surplus last year.

The deficit for the current fiscal year was estimated at $8,201,000,000.

TO PLUG LOOPIHES

The president asked for about $4,600,000,000 "at the very least" in additional revenue. He emphasized plugging loopholes in tax laws.

The president told reporters, however, he wants the same rates he asked for last year when Congress cut his new tax program from $10,000,000,000 to about $5,400,000,000. This would mean approximately a 5 per cent increase in personal income taxes, an increase in the normal corporation rate from 52 to 55 per cent, and more excise taxes.ada.

Truman Asks Congress Aid For Waterway

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Truman appealed to Congress today to approve the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project. He termed it a "strategic necessity" and asked an appropriation of $20,000,000 to start construction.

Of Canada's plan to go ahead with the seaway project with or without U.S. participation, Truman said:

"I have already indicated my intention to support such action by Canada, if that is the only way to obtain immediate construction of this project."

"However, if Canada built the waterway, she would . . . control its operation."

"I feel strongly that our nation's interest in the development of this resource on the basic which I have recommended is so vital that we should join as a full partner in its construction and operation."

Mainguy Will Learn Canada's Naval Position

OTTAWA (CP)—Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, Canada's naval chief, will go to Washington for talks that will embrace the question of where Canada's tough little east coast fleet will stand in relation to the Atlantic pact's new "Eisenhower of the Atlantic." He is expected to leave by air today.

The feeling here is that in peacetime, except for specific training exercises or periods, Canada won't turn over to the overall commander any elements of her navy in the way she has turned over army brigades to N.A.T.O. in Europe and to the United Nations in Korea.

Admiral Mainguy's mission is primarily a get-acquainted one, but he will be discussing the command in the wake of the Churchill-Truman agreement that an American should direct a combined naval effort in the Atlantic, the sea where the R.C.N. would make its big effort in wartime.

JOINT EXERCISES

Meanwhile, today brought one indication of what Canada has ready to throw into any new battle of the Atlantic. Two R.C.A.F. wartime or coastal squadrons of Lancasters from the Greenwood, N.S., base joined the U.S. Atlantic two or three weeks of cold weather exercises that will range along the northwest Atlantic seaboard of Canada.

AMATEURS REACH STARDOM

Drama Group Wins B.C. Honors

One of Victoria's amateur theatre groups has won top honors in the B.C. Drama Festival.

Under direction of Times Drama Critic Audrey St. John, this group was highly praised by Adjudicator Pierre Leteure, noted London actor and critic, after Saturday's winning performance of "The Heiress" in Vancouver's York Theatre.

The group will travel to compete for Canada's highest amateur drama honors at Halifax, it is expected, within the next few weeks.

IMAGE—In Paris Premier Edgard Faure formed a new French cabinet Sunday, made up of moderates and right-wing ministers whole-heartedly pro-Western in outlook.

The 40-member cabinet was almost the exact image of that of former Premier René Pleven, who was defeated on a confidence vote two weeks ago.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of the Catholic Mouvement Républicain Populaire, stayed on his job. So did Georges Bidault, of the same party, in the other key job of national defense minister.

STOPPED—A United Nations raiding party swarmed up a Communist-held hill in Western Korea twice early today, then pulled back to the main U.N. line after being stopped cold by Red riflemen and mortar crews.

Eighth Army Headquarters said the raiders back-tracked partly down the hill northwest of Yonchon after running into intense small-arms and mortar fire.

Allied artillery raked the Red positions, then the Allied infantrymen tried again. But the dug-in Communists hadn't been hurt.

Elsewhere U.N. forces threw back light probing attacks by 15 Red soldiers west of Chorwon and south of Pyongyang on the western and central fronts.

STRAWS—Elected in two Manitoba constituencies—Brandon City and La Verendrye—went to the polls today to choose representatives for two vacant seats in the provincial legislature.

The elections are the first since the break-up of Manitoba's coalition government in 1950 but observers are looking for straws in the political wind. But the final result—expected some time after polls closed at 8 p.m. CST—can not upset Premier Douglas Campbell's Liberal Progressive government, entrenched with 38-17 majority.

TIMETABLE—In New York Winston Churchill stayed indoors at the home of financier Bernard Baruch today to catch up on his homework but he will come out Tuesday for a parade up Broadway to the city hall.

Britain's Prime Minister said he would spend the day reading state papers that have accumulated and greeting friends. Baruch said the visits would be of "no political significance."

Churchill's timetable called for him to leave Baruch's spacious E. 66th Street residence Tuesday at 12:20 p.m., EST, for the parade in his honor, the city's second major procession in less than a week. Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen, of the Flying Enterprise, was honored, with a ticker-tape parade last autumn.

Only Policy Change Will Save Cease-Fire Parley

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Jan. 21 (UPI)—Korean armistice talks appeared to have reached a dead-end today with both sides refusing to budge.

Only major policy change by the United Nations or the Communists can end the endurance contest and save the negotiations from final collapse.

Both subcommittees working on a truce agreed to meet again at 11 a.m. Tuesday, but neither held out any hope for agreement.

Each side served notice in the two subcommittees today that it will not yield on the two main issues blocking an armistice—the U.N. demands for voluntary repatriation of war prisoners and for a ban on military airfield construction.

A Communist newsman covering the truce talks told U.N. correspondents that full-scale Korean fighting is "sure to begin" unless the U.N. drops its airfield ban demand.

At the same time, the U.N. denied a Communist charge that Allied planes deliberately bombed and strafed a properly-marked Communist true delegation convoy on the Pyongyang-Kaesong road last Friday.

It conceded that some such Communist vehicles might have been hit during an Allied air attack at the spot—a bridge 40 miles north of Kaesong. However, the U.N. said, the four at-

Search For Air Crash Victims

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Jan. 21 (UP)—An air force "paramedic" team searched the slopes of the Olympic mountains today for three victims of a B-17 rescue plane which plowed into the rocky mountainside returning from a mercy mission.

The team, which camped all night on the wind-swept heights, had little hope of finding the three men alive.

But they pressed on, mindful that five men did survive the flaming, skidding crash down the mountainside and there was an outside chance the remaining crewmen also pulled through.

Searchers Sunday found the wreckage of the plane and five of its eight crewmen on snow-covered Tyler Peak, 25 miles southeast of here.

A 10-passenger Coast Guard helicopter made three daring trips to the crash scene to remove the injured crewmen.

It was believed the missing men were hurt out of the aircraft as it skidded down the mountain.

Officers doubted that the three men were alive, but there was a slight hope that they might be.

Two-War Veteran,
Col. W. H. Dobbie,
Dies In Hospital

Col. Wallace Hugh Dobbie, D.S.O., veteran of two world wars, who died Friday at the Veterans' Hospital, will be buried at Royal Oak following funeral services at 2:45, Tuesday, in Christ Church Cathedral. He was 60 years of age.

In the First World War he commanded a heavy artillery battery, and served at Halifax, Kingston and Esquimalt between wars. From 1939 until his retirement in 1945 he commanded the Sydney, N.S., garrison.

Surviving are his widow, at 1256 Judge Place, and a sister in Rhodesia.

seriously injured and hidden by the deep snow.

"It's a miracle that anyone survived the crash and the night on the mountain," one officer said. "But if five men could do it, maybe God has kept the others alive too."

The B-17 crashed Saturday while returning from Sandspit, B.C., where it had taken part in a search for survivors of an army-chartered DC-4 that carried 36 persons to their deaths in the icy waters of Heceta Strait off the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The transport plane, with 43 persons aboard, was returning from Tillicum, Wash.

THREE OTHERS INJURED

The team, which camped all night on the wind-swept heights, had little hope of finding the three men alive.

The Ghost Walks

REPRESENTATIVE TIMOTHY SHEEHAN, of Illinois, asks the American Congress to arrange for the peaceful annexation of Canada. He says the United States would make it right with Britain by compensation for British rights in this country. It doesn't occur to him, apparently, that Britain cannot sell Canada, that Canada, completely owned by its own people, is not for sale.

There is no use getting mad with Mr. Sheehan. Canada has heard all this before. Every decade or so some distinguished statesman rises in Congress to propose the annexation of Canada. From the days when Britain was asked to hand over Canada to the United States in settlement of the Alabama Claims to the 1911 reciprocity election, when Mr. Champ Clark expected to see the Stars and Stripes soon waving all the way to the North Pole, the Canadian answer has always been the same. Only a few Americans ever expected it to be otherwise.

The United States, twice tried to annex Canada by force of arms, in 1775, when Montgomery was shot down by the walls of Quebec, and in 1812 when a handful of bush fighters repelled the bold-hearted armies of the young Republic. For all but a lunatic fringe that settled the matter, The Americans learned that Canada intended to be Canada and they were satisfied.

The union of the two countries was never practical politics after the Confederation of 1867. It is less so than ever today when Canada is rapidly becoming a great nation on its own, seeks no other nation's territory and has worked out a perfectly satisfactory relationship with its neighbor.

But there will always be faint echoes from time to time of the old cry, "Fifty-Four-Forty or Fight." The ghost of Manifest Destiny will walk occasionally in Washington but only as an interesting historical exhibit. We need the friend of the Americans, as they need ours, too much to disturb it by taking Mr. Sheehan seriously.

Towards Unity

THE PROGRESS OF THE SCHUMAN Plan is dull news but vitally important. Both France and Western Germany have agreed to pool their steel and coal resources in one of the boldest experiments of European history. If any man had predicted a few years ago that Europe's historic enemies would integrate their heavy industries he would have been considered crazy. Yet that is precisely what France and Germany propose to do.

Since the scheme will also include The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy, western Europe, beyond the communist line, should soon vest the control of its most vital productive apparatus in a supra-national authority. This is surrender of national sovereignty on a grand scale in an effort to create a still larger sovereignty and to eliminate some of the trade restrictions which have long strangled the European economy.

A program so vast and unique will not work quickly or easily. Many difficulties will occur at the industries of the various participants have to readjust themselves to new competition when steel and coal move through Europe free of old customs restrictions. But at least a start is being made toward an economic integration of the continent.

The proposed military integration, known as the Plevin Plan for a European army, is a matter equally difficult and important. If a start can be made there, as it should soon be made in the Schuman Plan, the weather of Europe, economically and militarily, will be drastically altered for the better.

Political integration, the age-old dream of European federation, will take much longer. A premature attempt to achieve it might well smash the progress already being made, as the British Government has long warned the United States, which is inclined to expect miracles overnight.

Nevertheless if any kind of political integration is to occur it must be built on the trials and errors of daily business in the Schuman Plan and on the military experience of the Plevin Plan; if it can be undertaken. The first roots of a unified Europe are now appearing and, given the chance, they may grow in an entirely new climate of opinion.

It is notable that both the Schuman and Plevin Plans come out of France and bear the names of French statesmen. The energy, imagination and daring of France evidently are larger than the world has lately supposed. Despite its political confusion, a nation which can produce more goods than ever within a few years of destructive war, can now lead the thought of Europe and is drawing its old German enemy into the European community is still a great nation.

Who Decides What You See?

GEORGE HILLIARD ROBERTSON, writing in Maclean's magazine, has dissected Canada's moving picture censorship and has left the pieces lying around in a way not calculated to sweeten the atmosphere.

Mr. Robertson says that the censors, whose wages are paid by taxpayers, but who require no particular training or qualifications, may determine on the basis of their own good or bad judgment what Canadian movie-goers may see or may not see on the screen. They may refuse permission to show a film without seeing it themselves. They are required to give no reasons for their decisions, and they are costing motion picture patrons half-a-million dollars a year in the process.

They operate, says Mr. Robertson, under assorted censorship laws in the different provinces which give censor boards the absolute power to ban any picture for any reason they wish. Subject to direct political control by the cabinet minister in charge of their department they could easily become the instrument of any political attempt to suppress general or specific ideas contrary to those held by the party in power."

Mr. Robertson cites as an example the occasion on which former Premier Mitchell Hepburn, displeased with a Time magazine article, barred "The March of Time" from Ontario screens. He further lists a number of outright bans and film mutilations attributable to censors. These, he notes, are applied after Hollywood's own self-censoring office has passed films. Moreover, the movie censors operate beyond the limits of Criminal Code sections protecting the public from immorality, indecency or obscenity.

One of the anomalies of the Canadian arrangement lies in the fact that a picture considered fit and proper to be viewed in one region may be declared immoral, sacrilegious or offensive to the public taste in another. Mr. Robertson cites an instance that occurred in this province:

"In 1947, J. Bernard Hughes, chief censor for British Columbia, banned a Russian-produced war film, Diary of a Nazi, which had previously passed the Ontario censor board without a murmur. Hughes described it as 'purely Russian propaganda . . . a coldly sadistic picture, depicting the Nazis at their worst.' The ban raised a considerable furor but an appeal board consisting of a Catholic barrelmaker, a community worker and a doctor's wife upheld the ruling until the distributor, in 1949, made sufficient cuts to satisfy the board's sensibilities."

Mr. Hughes is employed under the jurisdiction of the Attorney-General's department at a salary of $3,240 a year plus cost of living bonus. He has as his assistants, Miss J. M. Reed, salary $1,920 plus cost of living bonus, and R. W. McDonald, salary $1,800 plus cost of living bonus.

They were appointed by the government and it is their duty to see every film presented for exhibition in British Columbia. Appeals may be taken from their rulings or their cutting to a specialist board whose members are not on salary but may receive expenses.

Justification for the existence of censors and their work is claimed on the grounds that they judge suitability of films before they go on public exhibition. Prosecutions under the Criminal Code, obviously, would have to await public showings, by which time, it is argued, any harm they might do could already have been done.

The crux of the objection to them, however, resides in the fact that individual censors who operate at public expense may exercise such wide powers. Bad judgment on their part, or the influence of local or personal prejudice can influence their decisions and thoughtful productions can be stifled.

Even without the abuses or instances of personal or community bias outlined in Maclean's, the system employed in Canada is dangerous and bureaucratic.

Be Ready To Play Our Part

AS MR. CHURCHILL VOICED HIS farewell words the other day: "Let Canada go forward into her great future" no one was better aware than he of the international complications that future will hold.

Already, when her garments of nationhood hardly yet "cleave unto their mold," Canada is well immersed in international problems, commitments and obligations. Her growing importance as a middle power—and in some respects as a major power—must inevitably intensify these aspects of her life.

Canadians, therefore, if they would avoid the mistakes of some countries, and emulate the virtues of others, should prepare themselves for the position they are destined to hold. We have been urged from time to time to be air-minded, atomic-minded, and in other ways to increase our consciousness of the new forces around us. It is equally important that we become international-minded if as a nation we are to play our part in the world.

In this connection, the work of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs becomes ever more important. With branches in each of the major cities, the Institute sponsors research in political and economic problems affecting Canada, as well as discussion groups and speakers' itineraries. Results of studies are presented periodically in the Journal of the organization and in a series of pamphlets. In these forms they are available to the general public.

The recent appointment of Dr. B. K. Sandwell to the chair of the advisory committee of the Journal, and of Prof. Edgar McInnis to the newly-created presidency of the national body, marks the emphasis now being given the work.

There are many sources from which Canadians may increase their knowledge of international affairs. The daily press, informed periodicals and lectures come readily to mind. Such agencies are available if the people will make use of them. An increasing wealth of information will well serve both the individual and the nation.

Assessing The Washington Talks

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOR

From Washington

THE great old man whose rolling periods are still the only true oratory of our age, had behind him a record of solid achievement when he rather coolly climbed the Congressional rostrum. On balance, Winston Churchill's visit to Washington has been a remarkable success.

It has induced a peevish and reluctant State Department to discuss world problems as between equals, which is a pretty new thing in our dealings with our allies since 1949. It has cleared the air between London and Washington. On many urgent problems, it has produced important working agreements.

IT MUST be added, moreover, that the American preparations for the Churchill-Truman meeting openly invited a grave failure, and that success instead resulted because of the large-minded approach of the British Prime Minister and his Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden. Typical of this altered British approach was the handling of the most vexed of all Anglo-American questions—Far Eastern policy.

The new British line was quite different from that taken by previous negotiators from London. On the one hand, Churchill and Eden refused to withdraw the Labor government's recognition of Communists in China, although they frankly said they were not sure it had been a wise step. But on the other hand, they markedly refrained from blaming the Chinese Communist aggressions on simple hurt feelings, caused by American non-recognition of Peking.

THUS the character and motives of the Chinese Communists were judged, so to speak, from the same angle of vision by both British and Americans. In this new situation, the formerly angry issue of recognition ceased to matter very much and it became possible to examine the practical problems confronting us in the Far East in a practical, hard-headed way.

There was some friction, evidently between Foreign Secretary Eden and Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson, before the British in part accepted the American view of Japan's proper relations with Chiang Kai-shek. The British in fact believed that the State Department was breaking a promise not to interfere in the Japanese decision about Chiang, allegedly made during the Japanese treaty negotiations.

EVEN here, however, agreement was reached. And meanwhile the conference boldly tackled the infinitely more important question of what to do about the new Chinese aggressions that may quite possibly occur in the near future.

It may seem silly, but it was still a great gain when the British and Americans agreed to treat aggression as aggression (instead of as a sensitive young government's pardonable response to slights). The British took the initiative, moreover, quite as much as the Americans. The resulting understanding means that the Chinese can no longer hope to attack Indo-China, or to make other, similar moves in Korea or elsewhere, with all opposition paralyzed by Western disunity.

THE same pattern of co-operation of British and American policy importantly appeared in the discussions of Western European problems. Thus it can now be said that the two great causes of Anglo-American differences have been finally removed.

Against this vital gain, however, the huge omission of the Churchill-Truman meeting must also be balanced. Agreement was reached to work more closely together in the Middle East, but neither British nor Americans seem to have proposed any clear program to halt the terrible Middle Eastern decay. Above all, Britain's own economic problem was slighted, partly because Churchill opened his first meeting with President Truman by specifically declaring that he did not wish to discuss this matter, and meant to make Britain carry her own burdens.

THE brave old Prime Minister's intention of independence is impressive, but it cannot alter the facts. In the last quarter, Britain lost $95 million from her gold and dollar reserves—about $400 million more than originally estimated. Reserves are now down to $2.3 billion. The drain still continues. If reserves fall much below $2 billion, a world currency panic may occur and Britain will then go broke. Such is the state of the British bank.

FOR relief, the American government intends to take $300 million of existing military aid appropriations and give this sum to Britain as economic aid. Next year's foreign aid bill will carry about $800 million for British account. But no one can now tell whether the $300 million will be enough, and whether the $800 million will be voted in full and in time.

In short, there is considerable danger that America's one essential partner in world affairs will drift into bankruptcy, at the very moment when the partnership has again been restored to something like working order.

When the rather small British needs are contrasted with our own gigantic defense outlays, taking this risk of losing the British contribution to the partnership hardly seems economical or sensible.

Soil Saver

Ottawa Journal

The fear of some experts that the population of the earth is growing faster than the earth's ability to feed them may be dissipated by some recent discoveries in the United States.

The great Monsanto Chemical Company has developed a synthetic substance called krlim, which will in a matter of hours rejuvenate and sustain soil for years or generations. Krlim is described as not a fertilizer but a soil conditioner.

Its action is like that of compost, manure or peat moss, in that it reconstitutes the physical structure of the soil to allow its natural nutrition through oxygen, water and other elements—but it acts from 300 to 1,000 times as quickly as the natural conditioners.

As Our Readers See It

MANDARINS

A great many people no doubt got quite a bang out of the Cook Street lady's letter in a recent Times regarding the deluge of little boxes of meandering Mandarins waiting for someone to save their hides. However, folks, you'll probably see the duckly little boxes as easy to carry, appearing in stores later next summer filled with spuds and apples. On a remote part of the box may appear, "Contained so many ounces when packed."

OLD ANGUS

SWEEPS

Your correspondent W. G. Wilson, in Monday's edition of our daily Times, referring to England not having adopted a sweepstakes for hospitals although so "close to Eire" which has for so many years financed its hospitals through them, he forgets, I think, the very strong "nonconformist conscience" of England which commands such a number of votes and from which they do not "suffer" in my native land!

However, your able "editorial" a few days ago pointed out sweepstakes of all kinds, illegal in Canada by the federal Criminal Code and therefore automatically rules out a hospital sweep. But why does it still permit the sweepstakes known as the "barrel sweep" yearly in the Cowichan district, for which tickets are openly sold in stores and on streets? Also, if sweepstakes are "illegal" so are all forms of gambling, of which church raffles, tombolas, bingo and the various other forms, including the largest nationwide—of gambling on the stock exchange. Why is it still permitted?

PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION

I hope the B.C. Department of Education will note the protest of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation against the ultra progressive-minded pedagogues of Canada. "Pseudo-psychology gone mad—it leaves to the immature individual the decision on principles of right and wrong, good and bad, self-indulgence and duty, an education of youth by novelty for immaturity, the preference of the psychologist over the philosopher."

In Ontario they have actually eliminated high school entrance examinations. The new report card does away with the long-established system of marks. The thought is, what do parents propose to do about it?

DYNAMITE DEATH

Regarding the death of Frederick Stewart from a dynamite blast on Pharmaceutical Farm, Saanichton.

From the evidence it does seem that regulations re use of explosives should be tightened.

Length of fuse used should be mandatory and where a fuse has once been lighted a period of at least a half hour should elapse before anyone is permitted to go within the danger area.

Accidents of this sort have happened too often.

Unemployment May Strike Peak Soon

Unemployment in Victoria is expected to reach its peak by the end of the month, officials of the National Employment office predicted today.

During this week the number of persons out of jobs in Victoria continued to increase, they said. Orders received for male help were with few exceptions quickly filled. There were also few jobs open for women.

Employment officials felt that unemployment would continue to rise to the end of the month. This was the usual pattern of employment at this season of the year, they explained.

Soldiers Can Call Wives By 'Phone During Lulls Between Korea Battles

By ROY THORSEN

It's getting to be a small, small world.

There was a time—and not so many years ago—when a distance of 5,000 miles separating people meant you wouldn't hear from or see them for months.

Modern conveniences have changed the picture, yes, even in regard to war.

How about this as an example:

Lt. Andrew Larson of Toronto went to Korea with Canadian 25th Brigade last April. Since then he has telephoned home to his wife five times from Pusan. He is now in Japan awaiting further posting.

In the Second World War a soldier couldn't retire a few miles beyond the front lines, pick up a telephone and get in touch with the little woman. You had to go far back to those "no danger" spots to start overtures with the army to try and get a phone message to the family back in Canada—and extremely lucky if you could get the OK.

There might be a few thousand miles separating a serviceman from the little woman today, but if he wins a trip home on compassionate grounds air travel brings him home in a matter of a few hours—well, about 36 hours, anyway.

New York In Late Rally Ends Decline

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—A late recovery came into the stock market today as President Truman placed before congress the biggest budget in history, except in time of all-out war. The market was quiet most of the day. Prices had backed down from their opening gains and the trend had turned mixed when recovery got underway during the final hour.

Canadian Pacific was ahead a point at one time as was U.S. Gypsum, Amerada Petroleum, a traditionally wide mover, was up 4% at one point. Canadian Pacific, up 1%, and Hiram Walker, up 1%, were the only Canadian stocks advancing on the big board. Nickel dropped 1%, McIntyre was down 1% and Distillers dropped 1%. Doms was unchanged.

Yellowknife and Royalite advanced 1/4 apiece on the curb. Lake Shore lost 1/4.

Montreal Down

MONTRÉAL, Jan. 21 (CP)—Stock prices fell off near the close today on the Montreal stock exchange and curb market.

Brisk opening activity put gains in a majority but support dwindled and a number of advances were turned into losses. Changes ranged to about three points, although there were few major movements.

Papers, senior metals, senior oils, steels, carriers, banks and miscellaneous industrials eased.

Aluminum dropped three points to 113 1/2, while Canadian Celanese was off 2 1/2 points at 43 1/2.

Consolidated Smelters climbed early to a new high of 198, a gain of 2 1/2 points.

Toronto Support

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (CP)—Slightly firmer support today toward the session's close steadied wavering stock market prices.

Trading was active as a wide list of western oils, penny golds and selected, lower-priced base metals attracted speculative interest. Industrial dealings were slow and confined mainly to leading issues.

Foods remained industrials' strongest section with a scattered list of fractional advances. Agricultures drew firm support while constructions, steels, banks, textiles, manufacturing companies and retail stores held gains and losses in balance. Utilities, liquors and miscellaneous industrials weakened while refining oils eased.

In senior golds Dome, Hollinger, Kerr Addison and Teek Hughes edged lower while Maritime climbed pennies.

Vancouver Mixed

VANCOUVER (Noon local)—Trading was mixed but active on the stock exchange today with some hesitant advances, mostly in new issues among the western oils, balanced by fractional losses.

In the oils Okalta gained 15 cents to $5.15. Calnord had an equal gain to $1.30. Central Leduc, Del Rio and Royal Canadian were unchanged.

Less activity was seen in mines and industrials. Western Uranium was active, closing at $3.10, up 10 cents. Estella held at $2.48. Silvan was up ten cents at $1.40.

London Quiet

LONDON, Jan. 21 (Reuters)—The boom in German government bonds on the London stock exchange continued today.

The Dawes and the Young Joans again encountered an active demand based on hopes of an early settlement of the German external debt question. Prices advanced to show the Young loan particularly strong with a gain of 4 1/2 points at 20. Japanese issues were uncertain and failed to hold early improvements.

Elsewhere, markets were mainly quiet awaiting the official communiqué on the Commonwealth ministers' conference.

Leading industrials remained under influence of recent new issues and talk of more to come. Electrical and musical industries were mentioned as perhaps being in the queue of applicants for new money.

FAMED TOTTENHAM SPURS TO APPEAR IN VICTORIA

Dominion Football Association officials announced recently that the Tottenham Hotspurs will play in Victoria. The English soccer club will tour Canada and is expected in Victoria in late May or early June.

Tottenham will be the fourth English club to play in Victoria in four years, and are no doubt hoping for a better fate than befell Fulham last year. The 'Spurs' are holding down fourth place in the English first division, five points behind the league-leading Portsmouth.

During the west coast tour, Tottenham will also play two games at Vancouver.

LOCALS IMPROVE

Alpines Down Scrappy Vids

Victoria Individuals neither won their basketball game nor made any money Saturday night but one thing they did prove was that they will go a long way in the forthcoming B.C. playoffs.

The reason for the optimism was although they lost 52-29 to a powerful Seattle Alpine Dairy squad, the home club put on the best hoop display of the season.

The meager crowd, not even big enough so that Vids could pay expenses, saw in Alpines one of the best basketball teams in the Pacific Northwest. Great checking and absolutely phenomenal shooting were responsible for them pulling away from Vids in the second half although

Navy Gains Tie With Native Sons

Scoring three goals in a sensational third-period rally, Navy of the Victoria Commercial Hockey League battled to a 3-3 tie with Nanaimo Native Sons in an exhibition tilt at the Nanaimo Civic Arena Saturday night.

Nanaimo went into a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period and increased it to 2-0 in the second frame. Then, in three minutes and 42 seconds, Russ McKey, Bunker Hill and Del Brown scored for Navy after the beginning of the third period.

Nanaimo scored with four minutes left in the game to force the tie.

George Lane Scores Shuttle Grand Slam

It's getting to a point now where it is a waste of time entering a badminton tournament if George Lane happens to be around. You just can't win when he unpacks his racquet and sneakers.

On Saturday night at the Amphion Street Hall, Lane wrapped up the annual city championships and put them in his pocket.

Going into the finals, Lane was defending champ in three departments, men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

REPEATS SWEEP

After the finals, Lane was still holder of the three titles, together with two new partners in the doubles championships.

In the men's singles, Lane's powerful attack and heady floor play was too much for Jim Wells who went down in two sets, 15-6, 15-5. It was the sixth time that Lane had annexed the singles title.

Lane had portly Ron Knott of softball fame as his partner in the men's doubles and they pinned Stu Reid and Norm Lambbrick 15-3, 9-5 and 15-8 for the title. Lambbrick was Lane's partner last year when they won the championship.

MIXED DOUBLES

Lane and Bumps Salmon had little difficulty in defeating Carol Chalmers and Reid in the mixed doubles for Lane's third victory, 15-8 and 15-4.

GRID SCRIBES BURN

Vancouver Rejected

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP)—

Vancouver hit the roof Sunday when it learned the Western Interprovincial Football Union had denied its bid to enter the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Carlson, sports editor of the Vancouver Daily Province, said:

"Jan. 20, 1952, will be remembered, at least in this city, as a black day in the otherwise shiny, honorable history of Canadian sport. "The most flagrant breach of faith barred Vancouver, this nation's third largest city, from its rightful and, what is more important, promised, participation in Canada's major sport."

Don Carlson, sports editor of the Vancouver Daily Province, said:

"It is a direct slap in the face of Canadian sport, especially when you realize that Vancouver was deemed quite capable of hosting the giant 1954 Empire Games."

and is certainly an object of ridicule among sports fans, not only in British Columbia but in the Pacific Northwest of the U.S."

Jim Gilmore, writing in the Vancouver News-Herald, said:

"It is a direct slap in the face of Canadian sport, especially when you realize that Vancouver was deemed quite capable of hosting the giant 1954 Empire Games."

The Men Behind The Scenes

These five individuals with the happy looks on their faces are the executive of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association, who are now making final arrangements for their "Minor Hockey Night" at Memorial Arena Jan. 28. They are, left to right, Jack Chesman, pee-wee division; Laurie Perlette, bantam division; Ivan

Temple, association president; Charlie Goldring, midget division, and Jim Nicol, junior division. A television set valued at over $700 is being offered as a door prize. Bill Davidson, secretary of the V.M.H.A., reported Sunday night that a number of veterans from the D.V.A. had been invited to the association's big night.

UNITED MEETS VIC. CITY IN BENEFIT GAME

Don Gray, secretary of the Victoria and District Football Association, announced Sunday night that a benefit game will be played between Victoria United and Victoria City from the V. and D. League Feb. 9.

All proceeds from the exhibition match will be split between the injured players' fund and Sid Robbins. Robbins suffered a fractured jaw two weeks ago when in a collision with a teammate.

Heaney's continue to miss Johnny Clark at centre on both offense and defense, but the big bucket man reports that he should be ready for action within three weeks.

However, Johnny Clark, who took over in the bucket for the first time Saturday night, showed that he is capable of holding down a spot on the team.

Admittedly nervous in his first game of the season, Fields handled the ball well and kept Arndt in check under the boards, taking many rebounds away from the huge voter.

In the second half, Alpines began using a double bucket with Tiny Arndt and Bob Gaston in the post positions. From then on in the game was all Alpines as they began a murderous barrage on the local hoop, banging in long shots with machine-like accuracy when they were unable to pierce the strong defense of the local squad.

TURK GETS FALL

The Turk proved right on the ball in the rough spots, and after using a series of arm-locks and head-locks on Kiser, entertained the large crowd with his popular pinwheel hold. He was awarded the first fall after rolling Kiser around the ring a number of times.

In the second round, the tide turned and Kiser came back to life. First he went to work twisting the Turk's arm using a Japanese wrist-lock, and then floored Mahmout with a series of flying mares.

The third round overshadowed the first two by far, as each grappler put on a spectacular display.

Both Mahmout and Kiser bounced off alternate ropes about five times and then smashed together in the centre of the ring.

The jarring impact knocked both wrestlers to the canvas.

Mahmout, who was the first one up, staggered and fell on the prone Kiser, while the referee began his count.

STILL PALS

Kiser threw the exhausted Turk over and then pinned him to the mat to the count of three.

At the match's end, both wrestlers shook hands and walked away arm in arm.

The main event brought together Andy Tremain and Ben Sherman, who probably wished he had "stood in bed."

As was expected, Tremain added another scalp to his belt, but not before running into quite a bit of unexpected trouble.

Tremain as usual fought a rough contest, but his jarring techniques had little effect on the ring-wise Sherman, who insisted that he had "stood in bed."

The special event brought together George Strickland and a hairy individual named Jerry Marcus. Strickland took the single-fall decision from the dark-haired villain using a crablock.

Art Lamphier decided Lionel Speller in the curtain-raiser.

United Gain Lucky Draw

Victoria United were recipients of a large stroke of fortune Saturday as they salvaged one point out of their Coast Soccer League match with a smooth New Westminster Royals machine.

By gaining a 1-1 draw with Royals, United now hold first place in the second-half standings, two points ahead of the Royals.

At that, United were fortunate to gain the split with the Royals. Although the defense was consistently good, United's forward line failed to produce anything in the way of an offense and missed several scoring chances by miskicking and poor positional play.

DEFENSE STRONG

United held a territorial edge because of the effective clearing and passing of backs, Bill Hope and John Pickburn, who continue to turn in game after game of superb work.

But once the ball was worked into the opposition scoring zone, United cracked. Royals' goalie had few difficult shots to handle and was more concerned with avoiding the body checks of the United forwards than with protecting his goal.

Only 17 years old, Pears showed the crowd of close to 1,000 some individualistic touches that label him as a bright prospect. His only fault seemed to be that he came to far out of his net and left himself wide open to the many bumps he received from United forwards.

DRUCE SCORES

The sweet threesome of centre-forward Tommy Druce and inside Gogie Stewart and Ivan Carr set a consistent passing pattern that paid off when Druce scored at the 15-minute mark of the first half. Given only a split second to get his shot away, Druce rammed a sizzler just inside the post although he was badly off balance. Goalie Bill McAllister had no chance to save the bullet drive.

Canada Troops Get Decorations

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Jan. 21 (CP)—Brig. John M. Rockingham Sunday announced decorations for three members of his 25th Brigade for fighting during December operations of the Korean war.

Maj. Jack George, of Edmonton, was awarded the D.S.O., and Lieut. Strathcona Macdonald, of Wankeek Hill, Ont., and Sgt. George Thwaites, of Charlton, Ont., were mentioned in dispatches.

Maj. George, leader of "D" company of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, was the only one listed as being wounded in action. His name was carried in a Dec. 13 dispatch.

The other two are members of the Lord Strathcona's Horse.

The decorations presumably were given on the strength of action early in December when Canadian forces carried out several midnight raids and captured Communist positions.

The major was wounded in the throat by a shrapnel fragment but didn't even report the fact, carrying on with the battle. He later had emergency surgery at a United States mobile surgery hospital.

His injuries came during one of the midnight raids seeking enemy prisoners.

RUGGED MISSION

It was a sticky operation. The Patricias got to all their objectives but finally had to withdraw.

One bunker gave them particular trouble. George personally tried to take it out after a couple of assaults, going in with grenades which he lobbed into the trench but finally had to fall back.

He then asked tanks under Lieut. Macdonald to take it on. Sgt. Thwaites manned one of the tanks' 50-calibre machine-guns.

The bunker crumbled, paving the way for final capture.

The major, a veteran of fighting in Burma and China during the Second World War, and a former company commander with the Second Battalion of the Patricias which came to Korea first, had led similar offensives on enemy positions earlier in the month.

In other operations, Lieut. Macdonald and Sgt. Thwaites, supporting the First Battalion Princess Patricias, shot up several Chinese Communist positions.

St. Laurent Leads Canada, People, Unity

SURBURY, Ont., Jan. 21 (CP)—The disputing nations of the world could well take the example of Canada, where diverse racial and cultural groups have learned to live in peace, Prime Minister St. Laurent said Sunday night.

The Prime Minister was making his first official visit to Sudbury after a visit Saturday to Sault Ste. Marie, where he opened a $1,000,000 armoury. An audience of some 4,000 Sudburians braved a six-inch snowfall and five-below-zero weather to hear him.

The speech was broadcast. Mr. St. Laurent stressed the developing unity of Canada. He drew attention to a statement by J. L. Gauthier, Liberal member of Parliament for Sudbury, that the people of this area constituted a miniature United Nations, with 27 languages spoken here.

DOS NOT WHOLLY AGREE

"I appreciate the sentiment," said Mr. St. Laurent, "and I appreciate the fact that the Canadians of these 27 different nations are all living together in perfect harmony. But I do not wholly agree with the way in which he expressed it."

"I do not think there is any part of Canada that is not more than a miniature United Nations. There are still too many differences between the members of the United Nations. I like to think that every part of Canada is coming to be a miniature of one single really United Nation of its own."

Defense Minister Claxton and External Affairs Minister Pearson also spoke briefly.

Canadian Ballet Adjudicator Named

Guy Glover, National Film Board producer, has been appointed adjudicator for the 1952 Canadian Ballet Festival eliminations, it was learned here today.

Approximately 15 ballet companies will be selected by Glover to appear at the Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto on the week of May 5.

Tour of the adjudicator will open on Feb. 16 in Halifax. He will continue across Canada to Vancouver, where two companies have entered the festival.

Cancer Experts Pool Knowledge To Effect Cure

Dr. H. M. Edmison, Dr. H. H. Murphy. In addition to this nucleus are 38 consulting medical men and dentists of Victoria, all specialists in their fields. Work here will be discussed at public meeting Wednesday night at Empress Hotel.

resulted from a Communist claim that the $300 the hospital paid in taxes for three months was 89 cents short.

"It was purely an oversight," Dr. Allen said, but the Communists gave no one a chance to rectify the error.

On Aug. 28, Dr. Allen was placed on "trial" and found guilty. Nearly two months later, he was ordered expelled from China and to pay $150 fine.

Released from jail Oct. 23, he went under armed escort to Hong Kong, where he arrived three days before Christmas.

Held in solitary confinement for eight months while the Communists sought some charge to lay against him, he was finally accused of two things: Withholding 89 cents in taxes from sales of two small items of medicine; and "forcibly seizing, retaining and distributing" without government permission a quantity of supplies received before the Communist victory in China.

Victoria Drama Victors Surprised At Success

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Fifteen Victoria theatrefees returned from Vancouver this morning, weary but exalted after one of the most exciting week-ends they could remember.

We all thought we were prepared for anything that might happen, but when the trophy for the best performance of a play in the B.C. Regional contest of the Dominion Drama Festival was placed in my limp arms, Saturday night, some of us were mighty surprised thespians!

No one who has not done it can imagine how a play director feels, lurking in the wings during a crucial performance like this one. Every deviation, every lapse, is enormous; double-edged, and goes through one like a knife!

The house was capacity-full and they demonstrated plainly that they like us. But the opinion of only one man—Pierre Lefevre, the British adjudicator—mattered then.

When the final curtain went down, my own opinion was that that we were out. Lefevre adjudicates at length, sincerely and constructively. Wisely, he goes into greater detail concerning one's faults than one's virtues.

Victoria Labor Council wrote the city today complaining of what is termed the "poor condition" of Garibaldi Road between Gorge Road and B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

mended our sense of theatre and said that we were obviously a group that knew what it was doing. He called it "skillful" as a production and beautiful to look at; especially the way in which scenery and costumes complimented each other in color. He had warm praise for the setting, costuming and "beautiful lighting."

I think most of us anticipated many of his criticisms, and were in full agreement with him. Naturally there were some points where we deviated and in chatting with him afterward, he himself agreed that they were matters of purely personal opinion.

A surprise award was that of best actress to Helen Smith. It was unconventional because Mrs. Margaret S. Shanks, 2655 Dufferin, The thief took $2 from it, but found the house keys and address of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shanks and visited their address. He stole $15 there.

Mrs. Shanks' empty purse was found off Lillian Street, Sunday. Police reported other break-ins and attempted break-ins in the city during the weekend.

PRaise AND CRITICISM

He had high praise for Noel Cusack, for her skill, emotional values and beautiful movement, though he disagreed strongly with her interpretation of the character. Olive Keane was exactly right, a very fine actress, in the adjudicator's opinion.

Archie Bain, Kithleen Baker and Bruce Banyard drew favorable comment too.

LOADED PISTOLS STOLEN

Two fully loaded automatics, .35 and .25 calibers and $10, were stolen from the apartment of Les Palmer, 636 Simcoe, Saturday night. Entry was gained by an unlocked window.

A burglar broke the front door window of Rhodes Coffee Shop, 2251 Government, at 2:35 Sunday morning and stole $15 worth of cigarettes and chocolate bars.

J. Tharsatt, Crowe-Gonnason mill night watchman, heard the sound of breaking glass and called the police. The culprit had vanished when police arrived.

No entry was gained, but the transom over the front door of the Veterans of France, lower Fort, was smashed by a brick Saturday night.

A pinball machine was rifled by some Saturday night player in the Eiffel Cafe, police were told.

Heves broke the glass in the skylight at Stocker's warehouse at Government and Queens, found the drop too far and made entry by removing a 16 x 16-inch pane of glass 12 feet up the north side of the building. H. L. Applegate, manager, is checking to see what was stolen.

Reconditioned Cruiser Back To Sea For Trials

For the first time since re-commissioning, H.M.C.S. Quebec will move out-to-sea under her own power at 8 Thursday morning.

The co-operation we received from the Vancouver committees and stage crews was wonderful. Everyone put themselves out to help us and entertain us and the excitement never stopped until we boarded the midnight boat Sunday.

It was a tremendous experience, but we don't want to talk about taking the show on the York Theatre during the afternoon, but after a variety of misadventures and lighting adaption had been overcome, rehearsals were beginning to filter into the theater. So we went on "cold" —which helped to account for a highly nervous condition all round.

UPHILL PARTY PLANS ROUSE NO EXCITEMENT

Victoria's Labor Circle Uninformed And Unimpressed

Victoria labor officials have shown little interest in a suggestion by Tom Uphill, Labor M.L.A., for Fernie, that trade unionists form their own political party.

"I have not even heard a mention of it," Percy Rayment, secretary of Victoria Trades and Labor Council, said today.

"Although the council is interested in politics, it keeps away from party politics," he said. "Individual members are free to do what they like."

FOLLOWING CONGRESS

Edwin Haw, of the International Woodworkers of America, its union, like others in the Canadian Congress of Labor, follows the policy of the Congress, which is to support the C.C.F. party.

"Our policy is developed in conventions," he said. "Naturally I cannot speak for the whole Congress, but I do not expect any sudden change in that policy."

Uphill said he had been approached by labor leaders, and had approached some himself, with a view to forming a new party. He said he will call all trade unionists to a rally in Vancouver Feb. 15 as the first step in organization.

A pinball machine was rifled by some Saturday night player in the Eiffel Cafe, police were told.

Heves broke the glass in the skylight at Stocker's warehouse at Government and Queens, found the drop too far and made entry by removing a 16 x 16-inch pane of glass 12 feet up the north side of the building. H. L. Applegate, manager, is checking to see what was stolen.

Meanwhile, work has proceeded smoothly on her sister cruiser, Ontario, in government drydock. Cracks were discovered in two of her hull plates, which have been replaced, and she'll be out of drydock in two weeks.

Dockyard reports that the mine-sweeper Oshawa will be ready for re-commissioning April 1.

Skater May Inglis... to go or not to go?

FOUR DAYS TO DEADLINE

'City Skater Can't Decide Whether To Try Ice Career

An 18-year-old Victoria girl is facing the toughest decision of her young life.

Pretty, dark-haired May Inglis of 539 Linden—chosen Friday to join the skating cast of Ice Cycles—can't make up her mind whether to leave Victoria or not.

But the decision has to be reached Saturday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Inglis, she topped several other local skaters at the Friday try-outs. If she does leave to join the show at Vancouver, May will be the first Victoria girl to represent this city with the colorful show which played here last week.

She was deliriously happy to hear she had been chosen and her mother said she "wouldn't stand in her way" if May decides to go.

A roller-skater for two years before she joined the Victoria Figure Skating Club in 1949, May credits her ice ability with the help she has received from club instructor Mary Ann McMillan.

She took the audition after meeting a friend at Nelson last summer—where she attended a skating school during July and August—and being told she ought to try out for the show when it opened here last week.

Victoria-born, she has four days to make up her mind.

As her mother says: "We don't like her leaving us, but it's up to May what she wants to do."

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Henderson, 407 Lockhaven Drive, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. Isabel Young, Vancouver.

Funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 at Chaplin's Funeral Chapel and interment will be at Royal Oak.

City Official Resigns Post

Henry Watson, City Comptroller, To Take Over Lumber Company Job

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Henry Watson, city comptroller, who has been with the city for 14 years has tendered his resignation to take effect March 15.

W. S. Moore, managing director of the Moore-Whittington Lumber Company Limited, today announced Watson's appointment as comptroller of the lumber company and its eight subsidiaries.

BORN IN LONDON

The popular 45-year-old department head at City Hall was born in London, England, and came to Canada with his parents in 1914. He was educated at Victoria High School and Shawnigan Lake School for Boys.

One of his early posts was that of accountant for the Hillcrest Lumber Co. at Duncan in 1927. Two years later he returned to Victoria and was articled to L. A. Grogan, chartered accountant.

Watson took his C.A. degree in 1937 and came to the city as chief accountant in 1938.

He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1942 and served in the accounts branch until his discharge in 1946, at which time he held the rank of squadron-leader.

He returned to the city to become assistant comptroller and in 1950 on the retirement of D. A. Macdonald, he was appointed comptroller.

COULD NOT IGNORE IT

In his letter of resignation, Watson said he left the city after 14 years with "a good deal of regret" but felt the opportunity offered in commercial life was such that he could not afford to ignore it.

During his term of articles the Grogan firm had a substantial practice in lumber auditing.

Dennis A. Young is the assistant city comptroller.

ISLAND MILK PRICE INCREASE REFUSED

Board Decision, Reached Without Hearing, Rouses Dairy Farmers To Protest Action

The B.C. Milk Board has turned down an application by Vancouver Island dairy farmers for an increase in the price of milk. The farmers learned of the board's decision today and were indignant because the board did not hold any hearing of their case before making its ruling.

Henry Robinson, secretary manager of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, said he received word of the Milk Board's decision from chairman E. C. Carr.

The letters stated the board felt an increase in the price of milk was not justified at this time.

The dairymen last November submitted than an increase was warranted because of increased cost of feed. The Milk Board answered that this argument could not be considered until such time as present costs are proved to be permanent over a yearly basis.

Robinson protested that costs were rising at such a rate that it was impossible to work them out on a yearly basis until late.

The association has scheduled meetings Thursday night in Duncan and Friday night at Lake Hill to deal with the Milk Board's letter. It is expected the meetings will raise strong protest.

Sliding Car Hits Train On C.N. Saanich Crossing

When traction failed, an automobile slithered downhill into the side of a moving train the car and hauled it back on the road.

Constable Robin Stewart, Saanich police, estimated damage to the car at $300.

Icy roads, with a powdering of snow in spots, slowed traffic. Drivers were careful over the week-end.

Knee-Hi is off the sick list.

She and her master, Dr. George Brunson, added to their activities over the weekend by making a half hour broadcast over CJVI Saturday afternoon and starting a daily series over the same station each morning at 8:15.

Glorified Tape Frames Picture For Pittance

By PENNY SAVER

Tell you what to do! Get yourself two pieces of glass, both the same size, grab your favorite picture. No, better still, grab your favorite picture, then get the glass so it will be the same size, and then put the whole thing together with Passe Partout.

That's right, a roll of this glorified adhesive tape makes a dandy frame—fresh and modern-looking. You can change it any time to any one of a variety of colors in the three-quarter-inch-wide roll that sells for 20 cents.

Not a bad idea, eh?

It is all very well for the young girls to be able to buy rhinestone necklaces that fit close around the neck, but those who have passed the stage of wanting to wear a choker can't always find the type of necklace they want.

Even the younger ones like a change in style, too. For 75 pennies you can buy a rhinestone lengthener. It fits at the back of the necklace and gives the added length you need.

A Splash Of Luxury

Now, don't get after me for tempting you with "extras." I just can't help it sometimes and after all you don't want to hear about staid articles for your home all the time.

Was passing through a jewelry store the other day and was almost blinded by a sparkling "flying saucer."

That's the actual name they call the new rhinestone pins that are circles of glittering stones from two to three inches in width. I'll tell you right now that they start at $15. The rhinestones are set in sterling with rhodium so they will not discolor. Might add too, they are of superior quality.

In the east they are wearing them on their winter dresses and on their fur coats. You can imagine how attractive they would be.

You can come back to earth now!

After that I felt I had to add just one more thing that would start you thinking about your home again.

A lot of gadgets around the kitchen are called "old reliables."

Perhaps the one that best deserves the title is an egg-slicer. Not many housewives think of using it very often, but you can be sure that if they want a fancy salad dish when they are expecting guests, they will rummage through the drawers to find it.

If your egg-slicer has "decaded" through the ages, or worse still, if you don't own one at all, you can skip out and buy one for 49 pennies.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

No Time To Share; Man Is Busy Making Money

It has often been said that American women are the most spoiled women in the world. It is true that they have more jewelry, more money, more cars, more furs and more modern conveniences than most of their sisters elsewhere.

Today more American women are working outside of the home than ever before but there still lingers in many a man's mind the old idea that his success is measured, to a degree, by the amount of leisure his wife has, the more leisure the more success.

American men have been so imbued with making as much money as possible that they have often failed to recognize a fact which is impressed on me through letters from women over and over again. Many of these pampered ladies do not know what to do with their leisure and most of them would trade luxuries for more companionship and more love from their husbands.

Their work has been taken away from them and so have their husbands.

We discover a strange situation in which the man works himself to death for his family but has no time or energy to share with them, share time and interests and leisure which build romance and protect love.

These are certainly the reasons for much of the frustration and depression found among middle-aged married women and among the men also. It might be wise to remember that in robbing his wife of companionship she loses much of the pleasure of life.

Glamorous Bolero Featured In Styles Shows In British Isles, For Spring

LONDON (CP)—The fashions of 1951 and early previews of 1952 spring styles have put paid to an untidy dress habit that reached its peak in wartime—the wearing of cardigans over dresses.

Fashion now decrees that stylish boleros replace the cardigans. The boleros, in fact, now are as important as gloves, bag and shoes. Except for sports outfits, cardigans are worn only with jumpers and even then, smart women pick cleverly-styled twin-sets. Unmatched two-pieces are a thing of the past.

With boleros made their first formal appearances, they met much opposition from those who remembered the shapeless numbers that went with waistless dresses in the early 1920s. Now even the most skeptical have been won over by the stylish suitability of present designs.

Essentially a youthful garment, the bolero has been given a touch of glamour and sophistication. Take, for instance, a slim-skirted, high-necked black wool dress with long tight of white sheared lamb, or a smooth fur fabric is a popular choice. Boxy bolero jackets combined with straight tweedy skirts are one of this year's suit numbers.

When the teen-age gang descends on your home for eats let it be "Sloppy Joes" and plenty of them. First fry onions and ground beef until browned. Then add tomato puree, a can of chopped ripe olives and seasonings to taste. Heat thoroughly and serve in toasted split hamburger buns.

The old adage "no man need starve on a journey who can fill his waistcoat pocket with almonds" was proven not long ago. A Burmese fisherman shipwrecked on an uninhabited island in the Bay of Bengal, ate nothing but almonds until his rescue a month later.

Air Force Woman Often In Arctic Supervises Foods

MONTREAL (CP) — Distant stations in the Canadian Arctic are just routine stops on the frequent trips made by Flt.-Lt. Agnes L. Campbell, attractive superintendent of food supplies for the Royal Canadian Air Force Air Transport Command headquarters at Lachine.

She's frequently off on expeditions to such places as Yellowknife, Frobisher Bay or Whitehorse to check on food supplies at the northern air outposts. Since 1950 she has been responsible for providing staple supplies and fresh food at stations that extend from Edmonton to Goose Bay and as far north as the Arctic Islands. She also keeps a watchful eye on kitchen staffs and supervises the preparation of menus.

She spent four days in December at Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island, but this is only one of the places visited in the past few years by the food expert, who comes from Woblesley, Sask.

BUSY IN SUMMER

During summer months, when air force photographic detachments go north, she is especially busy, for the mess facilities of each unit come under her supervision. She keeps in touch with the cooks to make sure they have a balanced supply of food on hand, and checks on the human details of details involved in serving appetizing meals to service men.

Most of her work is done at her desk in the air transport command here. She handles such orders as 50,000 pounds of fresh meat or 50 tons of staples, which must be packaged in special containers for their long journeys.

Flt. Lt. Campbell decided on the air force for a career in 1943, and after graduating from the University of Saskatchewan in household science, and a year's post-graduate work at the Vancouver General Hospital, she enlisted as a messing officer.

Before coming east she served at air stations in Rivers, Man., and Portage la Prairie.

Here is a simple trick to soften butter in a hurry for sandwiches. Fill a small china bowl with boiling hot water and let stand until the bowl is really hot. Then pour out the water and invert the bowl over the butter. In a minute or two it will be just right for spreading.

Brighten up your meals by serving chicken often. Light-weight chickens, that is, broiler type chickens weighing 2½ to 3½ pounds, are in good supply. They may be purchased whole for roasting or cut up for frying or baking.

Peace Price, Says Truman

Historic Budget Amounts To $550
For Every Man, Woman And Child

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Truman today sent Congress an $85,444,000,000 budget for 1952-53, an unprecedented figure for the United States except in all-out war.

He said it was "a heavy burden . . . the price of peace." It would amount to $550 for every man, woman and child in the U.S.

Over-all, national security programs would take 76 cents out of every dollar, the President said. Non-defense spending would be slashed $1,000,000,000 under the current fiscal year ending June 20.

To Congressmen talking loudly of economy in this presidential year, Truman outlined an $11,000,000,000 expansion in armed forces spending to bring the total to more than $51,200,000, including a start on building the air force from 90 wings to 143.

(A wing consists ordinarily of one group of planes and their crews, plus necessary supporting elements for maintenance and supply. The number of planes in the group vary from 30 for heavy bombers to 75 for jet fighters.)

MORE FOR ATOMS

And he gave notice, in a budget preview for reporters, that a new $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 five-year expansion program for atomic-energy facilities will go to Congress soon. This isn't included in his budget, Truman said, because it would be spent later—in connection with some fantastic weapons.

Truman said his foreign program, under heavy criticism, is "vital and indispensable . . . in the total fight for security and peace." He called for expanding total foreign aid from $6,968,000,000 this year to $10,844,000,000 next fiscal year with military aid alone jumping from $4,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000.

His budget, he said, "is carefully planned to carry us a long way forward on the road to security." He warned there is grim evidence "the Kremlin would not hesitate to resort to war in order to gain its ends."

Truman said without new taxes, his budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would plunge the government $14,446,000,000 further in the red. This would compare with a $3,510,000,000 surplus last year.

The deficit for the current fiscal year was estimated at $8,201,000,000.

The president asked for about $4,600,000,000 "at the very least" in additional revenue. He emphasized plugging loopholes in tax laws.

The president told reporters, however, he wants the same elements for maintenance and supply. The number of planes in the group vary from 30 for heavy bombers to 75 for jet fighters.)

Canadian $ Tops

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (UP)—The Canadian dollar was worth more than the American dollar here today.

Vancouver banks were giving between $99.50 and $99.75 in Canadian money for $100 American.

Beef To Drop

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP)—Retail prices of top grade beef are expected to drop five to seven cents within the next few days, packers predicted today.

They say also that the decline may be the forerunner of others to come.

Blizzard On Plains

By United Press
A blizzard with gusts of wind reaching 120 miles per hour swept across the great plains today and into mid-west.

Meanwhile, a drenching rain storm was moving into the midwest from the southwest.

The two storms, forming a giant pincher movement, were due to give midwestern states some of their worst weather of the winter.

New Hotel Tax Said Latest B.C.H.I.S. Plan

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP)—The Vancouver Province said in a dispatch from Victoria today the British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service may be put in the hands of an independent three-man commission.

The story also said: "A special tax may be imposed on hotel rooms to help the scheme out of the red without increasing premiums."

"These are reported to be two of the major recommendations of the B.C.H.I.S. inquiry board headed by Sydney Smith, M.L.A., which is meeting in Vancouver this week to polish up its 60 odd recommendations," the story said.

The story added the board may recommend:

No increase in premiums. Concessions for persons of low income, partly by premium exemption and by payments on a graduated scale.

Abolition of co-insurance, which will remove hospitals' big objection against collecting it, but will create the need for more money.

The story said the independent commission would include a doctor, a specialist in hospital administration and a top-notch administrator.

The $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 extra needed by the service this year would be taken from general revenue and the hotel tax.

Gateshead Wins

LONDON, Jan. 21 (Reuters)—Gateshead defeated Ipswich Town 2-1 in extra time at Shefield today in a second replay of a Football Association Cup third-round match.

Gateshead now meets West Bromwich Albion in the fourth round Feb. 2.
